

Cyrex Laboratories

Cyrex™ addresses the cross-connections between the body's endocrine, gastrointestinal and neurological systems which play a significant role in the development of today's complex disorders.

Cyrex Laboratories offer testing to evaluate increased gut permeability (leaky gut), blood brain barrier permeability, food sensitivities, and reactions to chemicals now found in our environment. This lab does not submit to insurance at this time. The payment for these tests is the patient's responsibility. You can submit these tests to your insurance to try to receive some reimbursement. You may also submit receipts to your HSA or FSA accounts as well.
