

Genova Diagnostics and Metamatrix

Genova Diagnostics and Metamatrix Laboratories have joined together with Genova Diagnostics now being the parent company. Genova along with Metamatrix offers tests that combine standard and innovative biomarkers designed to provide a more complete understanding of specific biological systems that can help physicians diagnose and treat or prevent chronic disease. These tests include, Nutritional Deficiency testing, Hormonal Testing, Allergy Testing, Specialized Stool testing, Genetic Testing, and much more.

To learn more about their testing, Click Here and you will see the list of all their testing. Click on the test of interest to learn about an individual test.

If you know the specific test you want to learn more about Click Here and type in the test you are looking for. Then select the test and learn more about that test and how to perform it.

For more information about certain specific Metamatrix tests Click Here and click on the test of interest.

Insurance coverage varies with these tests but with most insurances there is a pre-pay amount required and it needs to be included in with the test to be performed. Genova and Metamatrix will submit to your insurance but it is recommended that you pre-pay for the test in order to pay the lowest price.